PURITY STARTS WITH CORINTHIAN

BLONDE OAK

In a design sense, purity is not so much about a single style or look. Instead, it's about developing a single, unified theme and staying true to that vision throughout your home's design. Thanks to its incredible versatility, the American White Oak veneer – a key feature of the Blonde Oak Collection – is the perfect material for realising a range of styles. So choose a path, stay true, and...

THE BLONDE OAK COLLECTION

BLONDE AS A BLANK CANVAS

When you start with a dark timber, you narrow your choice of finishes. From its raw state, it will only become darker. Blonde Oak, however, opens a world of possibilities. Simply sealing it will capture its natural beauty and highlight the intricate grain and knots. But when you begin exploring stains and other finishes, you'll find a range of options from honeyed hues all the way through to the heaviest of ebones, and every shade between.

PUTTING PURITY INTO PRACTICE

The Blonde Oak range of sleek, simple designs and light appearance mean that they're a wonderful complement to other building materials and furnishings. And given the choice of looks, they're also adaptable to a wide array of architectural and interior styles.

DESIGNED FOR PURE PERFORMANCE

Door construction.

Each Blonde Oak Entrance Door is crafted from sustainable timber using traditional stile and rail joinery techniques, with subtle “V” joins. The American White Oak veneer makes them a brilliant starting point for any finish. Clear and translucent glass is available in many of the designs (AWO 21 designs include glass safety motifs, as required by the Australian Standard). All Blonde Oak doors are tested and rated to BAL 12.5 in accordance with AS1530.

Door frames.

The Blonde Oak Collection is compatible with all Corinthian frame types, including Enviroseal and Pivot frames.
